

WILLIAM S. CARPENTER JR.

In 1958 Bill Carpenter became known as the “Lonely End” in Earl “Red” Blaik’s revolutionary offensive alignment. The system caught the nation’s fancy. Carpenter was elected to the College Hall of Fame in 1982. While at the academy, he also lettered in lacrosse. He retired in 1992 as a lieutenant general.

